

Sign it Out

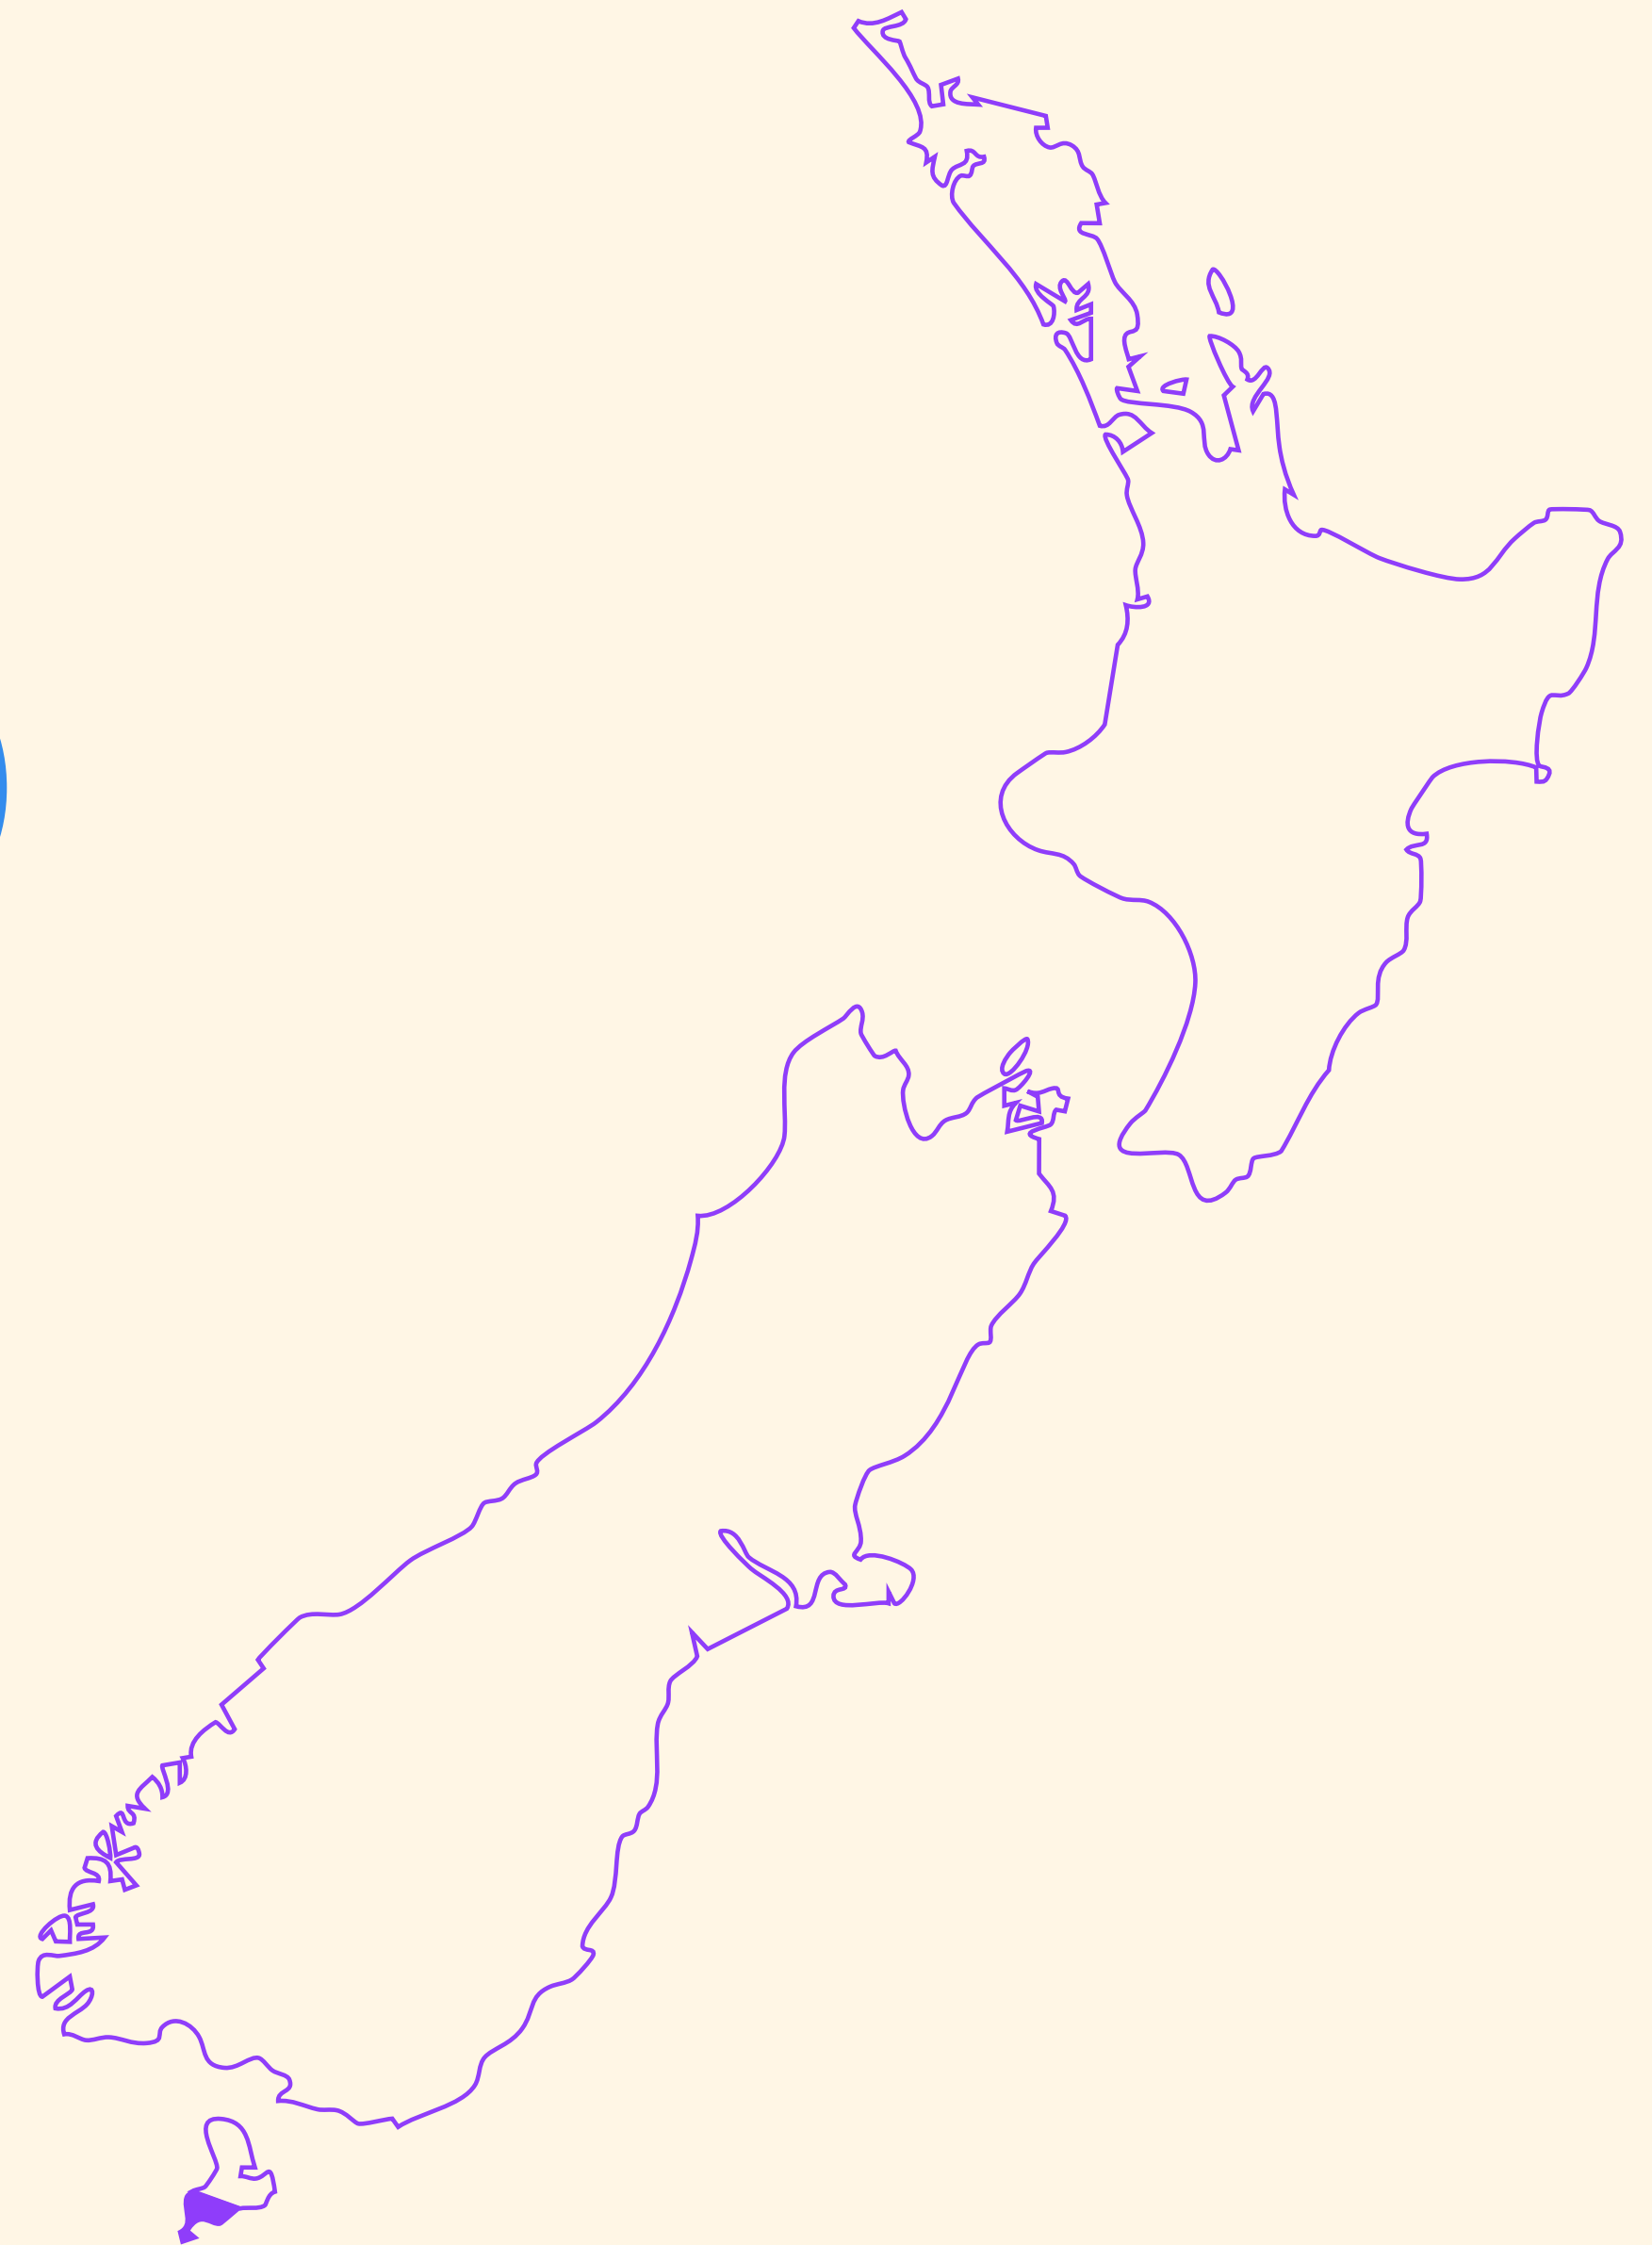

New Zealand Sign
Language Flashcards

0.47%

Deaf, hard-of-hearing, hearing people used New Zealand Sign Language (NZSL) in 2018 in Aotearoa

Sign It Out was designed to address the lack of fun NZSL resources and aims to increase the number of people who are fluent in NZSL

What Our Audience Says

"I use sign language, but my favourite cousin doesn't know it yet. I want us to talk and play together. I wish learning signs could be fun like a game!"

Lilly Yang, 5, Deaf

"There's a new kid in class who signs. I want to say hi, but I'm not sure how. The pictures in the sign language dictionary were very hard to understand."

Jack Thompson, 7, Hard-of-Hearing

"My mummy says learning sign language is important because of my Deaf grandpa. I'm not sure why yet, but it's fun when we learn together."

Sofia Patel, 9, Hearing
